Filaments

Panchroma Basic PLA

-15 %

The Panchroma Basic PLA range from Polymaker stands out for its ease of use, excellent dimensional accuracy, and outstanding print quality. This filament is ideal for prototypes, display models, small production runs, and a wide variety of other FDM 3D printing applications. Thanks to its excellent layer adhesion and low warping characteristics, even complex prints can be produced reliably. The high-quality material ensures consistent extrusion and an attractive surface finish. In addition, the extensive color range offers countless possibilities for creative projects. This makes Panchroma Basic PLA the ideal choice for both beginners and experienced makers.

Bedrock 3D Flexible Filaments

-10 %

The Bedrock 3D portfolio includes flexible materials for demanding industrial applications. Their properties include a soft feel, exceptional flexibility, high rebound, and excellent abrasion resistance. This makes these filaments the ideal choice when long-term component flexibility is required.

Bedrock 3D Advanced Filaments

-10 %

The advanced filament portfolio of the Bedrock 3D brand includes a wide range of high-performance materials specifically developed for industrial applications. Their consistently high print quality and precision make them the ideal choice for numerous industrial sectors. Properties such as high temperature, chemical, and dimensional stability ensure that your 3D-printed parts reliably meet even the most demanding long-term performance requirements.

Ultracur3D® Rigid Series

-5 %

The resins in the Ultracur3D® Rigid series are characterized by high flexural modulus and maximum thermal stability. They have been specially developed to offer class-leading tensile strength and rigidity, high print accuracy with low shrinkage and to ensure the long-term UV stability of printed parts. Ultracur3D® RG prints have low water uptake and are easy to polish.
